

What's the relationship between your cup of tea and Araucaria's rain forest?

www.arvoredobrasil.com.br

In Turvo, Paraná (Brazil), women farmers and their families use the trees to raise animals, organically cultivate shaded mate - considered one of the best in the world – and several species of aromatic herbs, to be used as condiments and medicines. With this dynamic model and rational land use, an honorable and alternative way to work, we manage to generate income and protect the Araucaria forest, which are preserved and recovered, allowing a fair local sustainable development.

This is good for the Rain Forest, for the Planet and for us all !!
